Google Remarketing

Why am I seeing ads by Google for products I've viewed?

Our mobile app uses a remarketing advertising service. Our remarketing service is provided by Google and other companies that show our ads on websites across the Internet. With remarketing you may see ads for our products you have previously looked at. As an example, suppose you visit a website that sells computers, but you do not buy a computer on your first visit to that website. The website's owner might like to encourage you to revisit his/her site and buy a computer by showing you his/her ads again on other websites that you visit. We use remarketing for similar purposes, so you may see advertisements for our products as you search the Internet. For this to happen Google or other remarketing providers will read a cookie that is already in your browser, or they place a cookie in your browser.

You can opt out of Google's use of cookies and remarketing at this link:

<https://support.google.com/ads/answer/2662922?hl=en> or you opt out using the Network Advertising Initiative opt out page at: <http://optout.networkadvertising.org/#/>

Our mobile app uses Facebook remarketing advertising service. With remarketing you may see ads for our products that you have previously looked at when you use Facebook. For this to happen Facebook uses a Custom Audience Pixel that is activated when a visitor lands on a webpage and a unique "cookie" is placed in their browser or device.

Google Ad and Content Network Privacy Policy

Third-party vendors, including Google, use cookies to serve ads based on a user's past visits to our mobile app. Google's use of the DoubleClick cookie enables it and its partners to serve ads to our users based on their visit to our mobile app on the Internet. Users may opt out of the use of the DoubleClick cookie for interest-based advertising by visiting <http://www.aboutads.info/choices/>
